Business as Usual

X An over reliance on unsustainable job placement programmes

- X By year end 2016 Unemployment ↑ rose for the NINTH consecutive time since Q4 2014

X Conventionally themed & unnecessarily lengthy 'training courses', neither fit for purpose nor fit for use, in some cases being modified from its intended purpose and state, altering the quality of the original 'course'

- X Unemployment rate rose to ↑ 14.2% in Q4 2016
- X Under-Employment rate rose to ↑ 21% in Q4 2016

X A qualified population does not by default equate to an employed population. In Q4 2014 Candidates with Secondary & Post Secondary educations represented

- X 55% of the Unemployed population
- X 51% of the Under-Employed population

H&A-PET Programme

✓ Provides a Sustainable solution ensuring that all successful Candidates are equipped to manage their own career transition and continued development, ultimately becoming Self-Reliant

✓ Training & delivery platform has been designed for ease of repeatability and reproducibility accommodating large scale implementation and roll out to groups of up to 50 individuals with rapid cycle through rates maintaining the integrity and quality of the content

✓ Dramatically reduces the propensity of existing graduates having to 're-skill' and re-train in new fields laying waste to the time, effort, and finances already spent on their education

✓ H&A-PET Workshop, is designed to support the transition of both new entrants as well as already qualified unemployed and underemployed Candidates into "Qualification Appropriate" roles at high rates

✓ H&A-PET Programme breaks away from the traditional training model, focusing on the 'business' need as much as the end-user

✓ Specifically tailored to meet the unique circumstances of today's Nigeria, sourced directly from key stakeholders and validated and verified by statistical data
